Rochester Coaching and Consulting (Services)

Art Consulting

I develop and manage art initiatives that translate visionary concepts into tangible realities from project inception to fruition with a keen eye for detail, strategic resource management, and a commitment to community engagement. I actively foster inclusive and participatory processes by collaborating with local stakeholders to ensure that the projects not only resonate with the community but also contribute to its cultural enrichment.

Public Speaking

Engagements include school visits, artist talks, and panel discussions. Topics include Art as A Tool for Healing, Art and Activism, motivational messages for youth, and guest lectures. I've moderated panels at the Southern New England Teaching Artists Conference, Ely Center of Contemporary Art in New Haven. I've delivered keynotes and have been at panelist for New Britain Museum of American Art, Amistad Center for Arts & Culture, Wadsworth Atheneum, and Raytheon Black Excellence Network.

Professional Development for Artists

I guide creatives (primarily visual artists) through developing a clear vision for themselves as professional artists. Clients are coached through finding their niche, adding structure to their art practice, and leveraging their non-art skillsets to bring value to their business. Service is provided as one-on-one or group coaching sessions.

Workshops

I offer group workshops that cover topics such as preparing your artwork for display, portfolio reviews, presentation skills, and fundamentals to enhance your art business.

Art Instruction

I teach a curriculum that integrates foundational drawing and painting techniques with the transformative power of art as a means for self-reflection and fostering constructive dialogue. Students acquire skills in color theory, basic composition, and drawing techniques, all while engaging in the exploration of effective communication and self-expression
